routine maintenance can be performed anywhere you choose - not just the dealership.

As a consumer, the Magnuson-Moss Act gives you these rights:

› You do not have to return to the dealer for service or use their recommended parts in order to maintain your warranty. 15 U.S.C. ch. 50 § 2301 et seq

› By law, your vehicle warranty will stay in effect when you have regularly scheduled maintenance at a repair shop that uses appropriate parts and procedures. 15 U.S.C. ch. 50 § 2301 et seq

FOR MORE: consumer.ftc.gov