Paul Fiore
Director, Government Affairs

Paul Fiore is director, government affairs, for the Auto Care Association.

Fiore's duties in the government affairs department include representing the association on Capitol Hill and at federal agencies.

Prior to the Auto Care Association, Fiore was director of government affairs for the Tire Industry Association from 2005-2011, with very similar duties. Fiore also held the title of executive vice president of the Service Station Dealers of America and Allied Trades from 2003-2011. He began his lobbying career with the Maryland Service Station and Automotive Repair Association (WMDA) in 2003 and represented them in the capitals of Annapolis, Md., Dover, Del. and the District of Columbia until 2011.

Fiore had a previous career as the owner/operator of a neighborhood service station with auto repair for 27 years, when he also served on numerous industry councils and advisory boards. Fiore values his many experiences in the industry over three decades, as he considers them integral to his understanding of the auto care market.
